Deep to Shallow Power

Start strong in the deep end with a buoyancy-supported cardio challenge designed to elevate your heart rate and engage your core. Using deep-water techniques and equipment, you'll build endurance and strength without impact on the joints. Then we transition to the shallow end for the remainder of class, where water resistance becomes your training partner. Through targeted toning, balance work, and controlled strength exercises, you'll sculpt and strengthen the entire body. This class delivers the best of both worlds - heart-pumping cardio in deep water followed by muscle-toning power in the shallows - leaving you energized, strong, and confident.

Psychics, Spirits, and Other Things We Don't Talk About at Dinner

Have you ever thought, "I knew that was going to happen!" or had a feeling about someone before they called? Maybe you've walked into a room and instantly picked up on the mood without anyone saying a word. Congratulations—you may already be using your psychic senses.

Despite what Hollywood, television psychics, and spooky music would have you believe, psychic-medium communication isn't about crystal balls, dramatic predictions, or suddenly speaking in riddles. It's much more natural—and much more common—than most people realize.

Our psychic abilities go by many names: intuition, ESP, mediumship, channeling, "gut feelings," hunches, and the ever-popular sixth sense. Whatever you call it, they all point to the same thing: our ability to receive and interpret information beyond our five physical senses.

In this class, we'll explore what psychic-medium communication really is, what it isn't, and why so many people have experiences they can't quite explain. We'll separate fact from fiction, tackle some common myths. You simply need to learn how to recognize the information you're already receiving.

Susan and Connie will share a practical, down-to-earth, and often humorous look at psychic-medium studies while demonstrating how intuitive information is perceived and communicated. Along the way, you'll discover that psychic experiences may be far more normal than you've been led to believe.

The evening will also include a demonstration of psychic-medium readings. Please note that while Spirit may have plenty to say, time does not. Due to class size and time limitations, not everyone in attendance will receive a personal message.

Whether you're simply curious, highly intuitive, or have secretly wondered if you're "making this stuff up," this class is for you.
